By Malcolm Millar

Ah, me! How could I miss the show at the Prince Theatre this coming Sunday-Monday? Why the sigh... and why the rise in blood pressure? Lend an ear.

On these days comes "The Cover Girl," one of the most beautiful pictures to come out of Hollywood, in a few weeks. All the "front covers" of the leading magazines parade across the screen in this delightful picture to bring us unadorned and unadorned from, not only the masculine gender, but from the feminine sections also.

Listed in the cast are Rita

Hayworth, Jinx Falkenburg, Leslie Brooks, Xavier Cugat and His Orchestra, AND... THE FIFTEEN NATIONAL COVER GIRLS, picked by experts as the most gorgeous creatures in America. It's a romantic musical and it's IN TECHNICOLOR, TOO!

THOUSANDS OF ARMY VEHICLES USE SINCLAIR LUBRICANTS

In saving wear and avoiding breakdown, the U. S. Army uses Sinclair lubricants in many "Jeeps," tanks and other vehicles. Your Sinclair Dealer has the same quality lubricants to reduce wear in your car.

To save engine wear, he has Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. Opaline stands up better and lasts longer because it is not only de-waxed but also de-jellied. Play safe, have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Opaline every 1,000 miles.

VITAL IN WAR... NEEDED IN PEACE

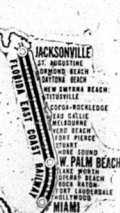

Good railroads have proved indispensable to the life of the nation in time of war. They also play an important role in times of peace.

The Florida East Coast Railway, for example, pioneered in the development of the East Coast of Florida, founded new cities, has aided the growth and progress of this section for over forty years.

During the current war, the ability of this double tracked railroad to handle a huge volume of extra freight and military traffic has made possible vital new activities on the East Coast of Florida, increased the flow of products from grove and farm.

When peace returns, adequate railroad facilities will greatly aid in attracting the new residents, visitors, building activity and industries upon which the post-war progress of this section will depend.

Devoted exclusively to serving the East Coast of Florida, the Florida East Coast Railway is a local industry and institution, sharing your dreams of a better tomorrow and striving to make those dreams come true.

Double feature is the order of the day for Tuesday-Wednesday. First one up is "Escape to Danger." This is a British picture with some stars we have seen here before. Listed in the cast are Eric Portman, Ann Dvorak, Karl Rothenberg, Ronald Ward, Peter Aspin and many others.

The picture is packed with suspenseful action, with unusual photography, which does not, however, detract from the story angle, which centers around Miss Dvorak and Portman. She is working with a Nazi agent to gain information leading to a plot that would be very unhealthy for the British government. She learns the secret, but only at the cost of her own life, for the Nazi

"WE'D RATHER SAY YES"

We don't like to tell people that they'll have to wait to get a home telephone. We'd much rather say "yes" to requests for service. That's the way it used to be. But the needs of war have first claim on available telephone equipment and on telephone manufacturing facilities and manpower. Delays in filling civilian orders just can't be helped.

All of us telephone people sincerely appreciate the cooperative understanding being shown by the many thousands who are waiting their turn to get service.

AMENDMENT NO. 8

Voters on November 7 will voice their approval or disapproval of nine amendments to the constitution of Florida. One of the amendments to be voted on has to do with terms of county commissioners throughout the state. The Palm Beach Post, last Sunday, explained this particular amendment in detail. Below are the repeating the Post's explanation:

Sponsored by the State Association of County Commissioners, interested in county government. It will be summarized on the ballot as follows:

"To amend Section 5 of Article VIII of the Constitution providing for five County Commissioners in each county, numbered 1 to 5, as nearly as possible equal in population, and providing for one County Commissioner from each such district; providing for the fixing of the boundary of such districts; providing for the election of County Commissioners from the county for terms of four years and the staggering of such terms of office."

The most important feature of the proposed change will be the extension of the County Commission terms from two to four years and the staggering of the terms so that instead of the entire board of five serving simultaneously there will always be two or three members from the former board carried over into the new, regardless of the outcome of the election.

At present, it is possible to change the entire personnel of the County Commission every two years, and though this is unlikely in practice, the chance of a complete upset in government remains ever present. The question of the length of term is another matter, some holding that four years is too long, others that better work can be done without the necessity for campaigning at such frequent intervals.

If this amendment is voted, the five commissioners nominated at the Democratic primaries and voted in November will all go into office in January. There will still be only one change as four are being re-elected: A. A. Poston, District 1; Lake Lytle, District 2; John Prince, District 3; C. Y. Byrd, District 4; Doyle Crocker, District 5, will be replaced by Paul Rardin, Everglades publisher.

Under the new system, while Lytle's and Byrd's terms would expire in two years but their successors would serve for four years. The question of re-districting of the county on the basis of population would be up to the County Commissioners themselves. Chairman Poston, who opposed efforts to re-district aimed primarily at his sparsely populated district, has approved this proposal, stating that he does not know just how the re-districting would be worked out, though he feels that this would "treat all fairly and equally."

If you believe the County Commission districts should be divided more on the basis of population, making each of the five as nearly similar in population as possible, and that the commissioners should have four years and staggered terms, vote for the amendment.

If you prefer the present system, vote against it.

Louise Norton and Mary Jeanne Williams, Their A. Chapella arrangements have won for them many friends both in and out of the field of music.

The pastor extends a most cordial invitation to Pahokee's fine citizens to attend this service. The fifty-voice choir will augment the song service.

The "Right-to-Work" Amendment simply guarantees all workers the right to employment whether they belong to a union or not.

It will put an end to the evil practice of forcing workers to pay some union overlord for a "permit" before they can get a job.
